

Update: Hibernia responds to discharge

Date: August 18, 2019 (6:30 p.m. Newfoundland time)

- Hibernia Management and Development Company Ltd. (HMDC) continues to deploy response resources to contain hydrocarbon released August 17.
- Three vessels are using mechanical dispersion and one vessel is using a side sweep system to retrieve it.
- Independent third-party wildlife observers have been in the field, observing via both helicopter and fixed-wing aircraft. Crew members of supply and standby vessels are trained and able to supplement efforts of independent observers.
- One tracking buoy has been deployed and a second will be deployed this evening.
- Personnel trained in water sampling are being deployed.
